

Bedford St Lukes: A Bit of Church History

In the summer of 2008, after 263 years of Christian service on the site, the congregation of St Lukes United Church in Bedford, England, was forced to acknowledge that it no longer had the resources necessary to continue. On Sunday, 5 October 2008, the doors of St Lukes were closed for the final time, bringing to an end a significant part of Bedfords distinguished place in the history of reasoned dissent. As well as drawing together the Presbyterian, Moravian, Congregational and Reformed heritage of St Lukes, this is a celebration of the churchs own history, chronicling the contribution it made locally to religious and civic life, and the achievements of those who played a part in its work.
