

Hot and Cold Diseases

There are only two diseases despite the variety, numbers. The body, blood, bones, muscles, tendons, skin, spleen, stomach, liver, heart, brain, glands, hormones, stools, mucous, urine, etc. builds up and breaks down (cleanses) largely according to food, nutrients, to which there are only two: building (hot, yang) and cleansing (cold, yin). The correct amount of building and cleansing produces and maintains the correct amount of blood, structure and function where the body mind can thrive. Any amounts, greater or less, in the extreme, tend to produce disease via too much, OVERBUILT (high cholesterol, arteriosclerosis, high blood pressure, cirrhosis, gout, warts, tumors, psoriasis, muscular tension, fixed pain, stroke, cancer, anger, violence, etc.) or too little. UNDER BUILT (anemia, pallor, fatigue, coldness, amenorrhea, infertility, miscarriage, short term pregnancy, autoimmune illnesses, ADD, edema, fear, depression, etc.) blood, structure and function. There is only one body, biology, therefore only one way to eat, exercise, etc. A woman may menstruate, but she still has to eat the same blood building foods, nutrients, that a man does, in order to rebuild her blood. She also has to eat more during the day than at night, as digestion is stronger during the day. You are not only what you eat, but also what you digest, absorb. One diet (central theme plus two variations and herbs) can prevent and or cure most disease if you know the building up and breaking down nature of the body, structure by structure, function by function and can apply that knowledge to the building up and breaking down nature of food, herbs, climate, sex, gender, etc. Everything builds up and breaks down.
